

OIL SYNDICATE REPORT 2020

The Oil Syndicate had a good year. Total volumes are down a little from 2018 but are still healthy.

I have been bombarded by requests from a company called Progress Fuels, but after the problems with Evolution of a year ago, I have no interest in trying an unknown company, and one that is not even based in the area.

For the recent February order, our usual supplier, UKAY, could not match the price that Rix were offering. Rix is an established supplier, and deliveries were carried out promptly, but there have been a couple of complaints of a smell from their oil, so this will be monitored. I would welcome any reports of such smells. It would be a shame if we had to use a different supplier, as Rix were considerably cheaper than any of the other suppliers.

Otherwise, they seem to have a good system, and they deliver without requiring a pre-pay.
